

BlueSpice

BlueSpice is a free Open Source Enterprise Wiki. It is based on the wikipedia software MediaWiki and expands it by multiple functions in the areas quality management, process support, administration, editing and security. The software is programmed in PHP and is executable on Windows and Linux.

BlueSpice is available in two versions.

Contents
1 BlueSpice	1
2 BlueSpice pro	1
2.1 Some included functionalities	1
2.2 Included services	1

BlueSpice

BlueSpice is a free MediaWiki distribution, free of charge and specially attuned to companies and organizations. Multiple extensions and functions support the daily work in the areas

- Professional text editing
- Process support
- Quality management
- Administration
- Communication and collaboration

BlueSpice pro

BlueSpice pro is the extended subscription alternative of BlueSpice free and contains additional extension for professional use in your company. Included are also services that ensure the use and operation of the wiki.

Some included functionalities

- Bookmaker
- Review
- VisualDiff
- SemanticData
- and many more

Included services

- 12h product support with BlueSpice pro Standard
- Patches and updates
- Expansion of scope of operation
- Special hourly support rates for maintenance customers

